

Seed Saving Stewardship Series High School Curriculum Connections

| | Curricular Competencies | Content |
|--|--|--|
| Science Environmental Sciences Life Sciences Specialized Sciences (Gr 12) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Experience and interpret the local environment (Gr 9/10) • Applying First Peoples perspectives and knowledge, other ways of knowing (Gr 9/10) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Living sustainably supports the well-being of self, community and Earth (Gr 11/12) • First Peoples understandings of interrelationships between organisms (Gr 11) • Taxonomic principles for classifying organisms (Gr 11) • First Peoples knowledge on classification (Gr 11) • Trends in complexity among various life forms e.g. reproduction (Gr 11) • All members of a species have common characteristics that evolve over time. • Our evolving understanding of genetics has implications for health, society, and environment. |
| Food Studies and Culinary Arts | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Social, ethical, and sustainability considerations impact design (Gr 10) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Simple and complex global food systems and how they affect food choices, including environmental, |

| | | |
|--|---|--|
| | | ethical, economic, and health impacts (Gr 10) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● BC Agricultural practices (Gr 11) ● Social, economic, and environmental effects of food procurement decisions (Gr 12) ● Food justice in the local and global community (Gr 12) ● Perspectives in Indigenous food sovereignty (Gr 12) |
| First Peoples Principles | “Learning ultimately supports the well-being of the self, the family, the community, the land, the spirits, and the ancestors.” “Learning is embedded in memory, history, and story.” The garden and seed saving skills learned will contribute to the well-being and healthy lives of the students and potentially their families. They will learn how important the stewardship of seeds is to the community. Students will learn that seed saving knowledge is embedded in history and explore this learning through story. | |